Ball Publishing Webinar: These Guys Suck!

4/24/2019 - 4/24/2019

1:00 p.m. EST/12:00 p.m. CST

This webinar will focus on the current management approaches and tools for aphid and whitefly management. Aphids and whiteflies are scourges of greenhouses and nurseries. Let's get ready for these sucking pests in the upcoming production season.

Our expert is JC Chong, an Associate Professor of Turf and Ornamentals—Entomology at Clemson University and Editor of the PestTalks e-newsletter. In this webinar, JC will:

- Provide an overview of the management approaches and tools to use against aphids and whiteflies

- Focus on biological control and alternatives to systemic insecticides
- Discuss recent research on the efficacy of new insecticides, including BASF's newest introduction Ventigra insecticide
- How to integrate new insecticides in your rotation programs
